Trading Schedule Note: No NYSE holidays within 7 days; full liquidity assumed.

1. Executive Summary

ETH is trading near $2,385 on October 20, 2026, with RSI ~36 indicating oversold conditions on the daily timeframe. ATR is approximately $92. Deribit near-term options show significant open interest concentrated around $2,200-$2,600 strikes for October 23 and October 30 expiries. Persistent ETF outflows (~$320M last week) and BitMine accumulation provide mixed institutional signals. Base case expects consolidation between $2,320-$2,450 over the next session and 7 days, with 45% probability. Key walls at $2,300 put and $2,500-$2,600 calls act as magnets. Actionable: fade strength toward $2,440-$2,500 call walls; stops below $2,320 (ATR-based).

3. News Evidence (auto-intake)

BitMine continued buying 12.5k ETH; US spot ETH ETFs saw ~$320M outflows last week (third consecutive). Mixed institutional flow. Weight: Medium. No single High-weight item shifted probabilities materially.

4. Technical Analysis

Daily: Price below short EMAs, RSI 36 oversold, MACD histogram negative but improving slightly. Hourly data shows consolidation near $2,380-$2,410. Support $2,320-$2,350; resistance $2,440-$2,500.

5. On-Chain Analysis

Exchange reserves mixed; whale activity noted with BitMine treasury accumulation. Network activity stable per available sources.

6. ETF & Institutional Flow Analysis

Persistent outflows from US spot ETH ETFs (~$320M last week) offset by BitMine buys. Net institutional tone cautious.

7. Derivatives & Options Microstructure

Perps funding neutral-to-mildly positive; CME futures aligned with spot. Deribit book live with high OI in near expiries.

8. Options Analysis: Deribit Public Book

Front expiry Oct 21/23: large put OI at $2,200-$2,340 and call OI at $2,420-$2,500. Oct 30: massive call OI at $2,600 (37k+) and puts at $2,300. Max pain near $2,400-$2,450. Pin risk elevated into Oct 23. Implied move ~4-6% for near expiries.

9. Sentiment & Expert Signals

Expert handles limited recent ETH-specific posts in window. Overall neutral. DaanCrypto levels noted around current range.

10. Macro Overlay

No major prints inside 48h. Cross-asset: moderate positive correlation with BTC/Nasdaq. DXY/yields stable.

11. DeFi and Ecosystem Metrics

TVL stable; no major shocks.

12. Network Activity Indicators

Gas and activity within normal ranges.

13. Whale and Distribution Metrics

BitMine holds ~6M ETH; continued accumulation.

14. Seasonality

Charts generated from long daily CSV (see attached images in full run). October historically mixed; current path tracking lower half of 4-year composite.

15. Integrated Outlook (Weighted Synthesis)

Ensemble: Technicals and Derivatives (walls) dominate. Base 45%, Bull 28%, Bear 27%. Walls take precedence over news.

16. Current Session and Next US Trading Day Forecast

Session range (90% CI): $2,310–$2,460. Median ~$2,385. Top drivers: Deribit walls, ETF flows, RSI oversold bounce potential. Posture: cautious. Entry: dips to $2,350; stop $2,290 (1.0x ATR); targets $2,440 / $2,500 wall.

17. 7-Day Forecast

Bull (28%): reclaim $2,450, path to $2,550. Base (45%): $2,320–$2,450 range. Bear (27%): break $2,320 toward $2,200 put wall. Daily breakdowns favor consolidation through Oct 23 pin then wider range.

18. Sensitivity Analysis

If ETF outflows exceed $50M next day, raise Bear +5pts. If spot tests $2,600 call wall with high pin, upside compresses. If funding >0.05, raise upside probability.

19. Key Risks

Expiry pin failure, continued ETF outflows, macro risk-off, thinner books into any early close.
